At the Pottery Guild, we keep the cost of classes and workshops down through volunteer activity. Potters are required to contribute some time, some pots, and some elbow grease during the session plus perform normal housekeeping chores as required (Joe jobs). In addition, you are required to treat the studio and other people's belongings with caution and respect.

As a patron of the Fort Saskatchewan Pottery Guild I agree to comply with its rules and requirements. I understand the Fort Saskatchewan Pottery Guild, its staff, and members are not responsible for loss of or damage to my belongings however caused or for any injuries I may receive while participating in the class or any activities of the guild. As well, I am aware of the inherent risks involved in participating in this activity.

Note: There will be no refunds after the first class

I have read and agree to abide by the Policies and Procedures of the Guild.
